Miss Lulu Wilson is seriously ill with malarial fever.

Laborers are engaged in building a dock in the Riverside park.

Brick work was commenced yesterday on the Bittling Bros. block.

J. T. Dale, of Utah, was in the city yesterday and made the Eagle a pleasant call.

Mr. Whitmore has now completed his cozy residence on North Emporia avenue.

E. C. Ringler is off tomorrow for Chicago on legal business, to be absent several days.

John Doe, from reasons peculiarly his own, closed his business place on the west side.

Policeman Clark lost a valuable red cow Tuesday night, and will liberally reward the finder.

A wagon broke down on Emporia and threw the driver to the ground slightly injuring him.

The machinery for the planing mill on the West Side has arrived and will soon be put in place and work commenced.

R. E. McKinstry, of the Farmers' and Drivers' fund of Kingman, called yesterday and took a look at our fast press.

Mr. M. M. Fechtelner commenced excavating yesterday for his fine brick building at the corner of Market street and Douglas avenue.

Mr. Harry Helm, who is a mail agent on the Frisco, is building a nice residence on South Topeka avenue. It will be completed in a short time.

A corps of engineers commenced work yesterday on the Kansas Midland route through the city. They commenced work at the corner of First street and Washington avenue.

Mr. W. D. Jacobs, who came from Oberlin, Ohio, four months ago to attend the Southwestern business college, yesterday accepted a position in a leading real estate and loan office at Pratt Centre.

Laborers on the Ft. Scott & Wichita were yesterday engaged in laying another switch in the railroad yards of West Wichita. So great is the traffic on this road that Wednesday evening, there was no place for the cars that had arrived at the depot.

Mr. Gehring, of the Wichita Cracker Company, leaves today for St. Louis to attend the Cracker Makers convention. During his absence he will inspect the factories of that city for a model after which to construct the building that the company will soon erect in Wichita.

A gentleman just returned from Conway Springs told a reporter yesterday that there is an unusually great amount of sickness at that place. Many suppose it to be caused by the water, which has become very low. There has been within the last week six or seven deaths, all from apparently the same cause.

Hon. Wm. Ross, of Clearwater, says Geo. Ross of this city, brought more clean cash to this country than any other man who ever settled here. He says George has been shipping stock from Wichita for thirteen years, and claims to have lost a large amount on each car load, and of course he brought it all back.

SAD.

A telegram was received in this city yesterday from Cincinnati stating that Mr. E. Smith, son of Robert H. of this city, is not expected to live. Mr. Smith went there some time ago hoping to recover his health but has kept getting worse continually. His father will leave for Cincinnati this morning.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to thank our many friends for their kindness during the sickness of our son, and especially his young associates who so kindly put their arms around him while sick, and the sympathy so kindly expressed in their great bereavement.

Mrs. and Mrs. Wm. Taylor.

Y. M. C. A. UNION MEETINGS.

Arrangements have been made to hold two union meetings under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association next Sabbath. A meeting for men only will be held at the First M. E. church, and another for women only at the First Presbyterian church. The work of the Young Men's Christian Association will be presented by the city pastor, and by experienced workers from abroad.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Hudson were having a spirited race on South Emporia yesterday morning. Mrs. Hudson had gotten slightly in advance and glanced back to see the doctor, when a dog frightened her horse which ran upon a dirt pile and threw her out upon the shafts. The driver of an ice wagon stopped the horse, and in good time, for had it gone another step she would certainly have received serious injuries.

NEW FIRM.

The proprietors of the City drug store and the members of the Wichita drug company have united their stock and propose to sell wholesale and retail. They have moved all their present stock into the room occupied by the latter and have ordered a large amount of goods which will arrive in a short time. They will do business under the name of the Wichita wholesale and retail drug company.

YET LOST.

Mr. J. H. Dawson, of Newton, chief of the engineer corps employed by the Ft. Scott company, was in the city yesterday looking after the level that had disappeared at Garden City in the hands of E. C. Nudd, an account of which was a few days ago given in the Eagle.

After a long questioning Nudd stated that he brought the instrument to this city but afterward sent it back to a lawyer in Garden City named Case. He imparted the information to Policeman Tom McManara, but it is not relied upon very extensively.

BUILDING ROOM ON THE WEST SIDE.

The west side is having quite a building boom. Christian Gauger has commenced a fine two-story house on Seneca street; near him on the same street will be the new house of J. A. Johnson and Milton Hobbs. At the corner of the same street and Webster avenue, will soon be completed the building of John Harris, and in the Whitney addition will be the cozy home of John Tillman, while Mr. Whitney himself will so completely remodel his house that it will look like a new one.

The Wisconsin lumber company has so great a demand for building material that at the recent visit of Manager Benton from Chicago, it was decided to increase the size and capacity of the yard.

A COWARDLY ASSAULT.

A prominent business man and citizen was Tuesday afternoon, the victim of a most cowardly and brutal assault. His name at his own request is withheld; not because any blame for the affair attaches to him, but from reason peculiarly his own. This gentleman, as a citizen, in the enforcement of a city ordinance yesterday, had a man named Bob Phillips arrested for selling horses upon the street without a city license as an auctioneer. He was brought before Judge Glom in the police court and fined $10; but appealed the case. He was then released upon his own recognizance and appeared upon the street, it is said, vowing vengeance upon the party who had caused his arrest. In the afternoon about 4 o'clock, he saw this gentleman near the latter's place of business, slipped up behind him and with a stone or sling shot dealt him two fearful blows on the side of the head. His hand was caught before he could strike again; and the injured man was restrained by his friends from taking the punishment of his assailant into his own hands. The excited man passed away, he became much exhausted from the loss of blood and had to be assisted to his office, where his wounds were dressed. The blow was a severe one, and the gentleman thinks he owes his life to the fact that at the time he wore a thick, heavy felt hat which broke its force. Phillips in the meantime had been arrested by Policeman Clark, who was on the ground in a few minutes after the assault, and landed him in the jail.

Phillips is an old offender and well known to the police. He at some time operated a wheel of fortune in the city, and was arrested a short time ago for an extremely an assault upon two farmers.

Yesterday morning Phillips was taken before Justice Thomas charged with making an assault with intent to kill. His examination was postponed until Thursday and he was held under $500 bonds.

EAST SIDE.

The building boom continues in spite of the extreme hot weather.

We are glad to note that the mania for fine large residences has struck this part of the city and struck it hard, too.

S. T. Jones, carpenter and contractor, has built three fine houses in the last few weeks. Mr. Black's residence, the finest, and Mr. J. W. Lamb's, next in order, then Mr. Jones', Mr. Willie, Mr. Shaw and others have built residences of which we are not ashamed.

Dr. Lay has remodelled his cottage in a plantation style and it is a model of beauty.

To keep up the surroundings the United Brethren church folks talk of enlarging their building to accommodate the large and increasing congregation. Prompt action in this direction is expected to be taken.

Business on this end of the avenue is good, judging from the amount of material leaving the different establishments.

Mr. Flagg has more orders than he can fill, having to turn away some every day, and the Wichita Cornice works are very busy and all the hands on the jump to meet the pressing demands.

The planing mills are both running to the extent of their capacity and turning out some beautiful designs of ornamental work.

Some casualties occur daily. Yesterday Mr. Carroll's little girl got kicked by a pony, the hoof striking her over the eye producing a very painful wound. Also a Mr. Shale, from near Mulvany, was stopping with Rev. O. W. Jones, and on going to the stable to get his horse it kicked, hitting him on the right arm, fracturing the bone, which is very painful.

SHOT DEAD.

Yesterday morning about 9 o'clock John McKinney stationed himself at the west end of the bridge which spans the Little river at Valley Center, and waited patiently, expecting his father-in-law, Mr. J. M. Clark, to pass there sometime in the forenoon. He had been there about an hour when Mr. Clark came along in a wagon accompanied by a gentleman working for him named McWorter. When the wagon had passed him but a few feet he shot at Clark, stating, "G—d— you, I said I would kill you and so I will." When the shot was fired Mr. Clark leaped from the wagon on the opposite side from his assailant and started running west for a short distance and then turned toward the river. McKinney followed close after him shooting as fast as he could. On reaching the bank of the river Mr. Clark fell saying at the time, "you have killed me." The brutal assassin was not yet satisfied and placed the pistol at his breast and fired.

Immediately after he fired his last shot he took to the cornfield near by and at a late hour last night had not been found.

The people of the town were alarmed by the shooting and the only witness present was not compelled to scatter the sad news. Almost every man in the vicinity was soon at the scene of the dire deed and a hunt was immediately commenced for the guilty party. The corn field was surrounded and a vigilant watch kept up all day. A number of men spent the day in examining the surrounding country, and it is thought that not less than three hundred in all were employed yesterday and last night.

Sheriff Hayes was wired the news a few minutes after it happened and immediately summoned a posse of men and went up the Little river some on each bank. The news was sent to Sedgewick City and a crowd of men came down the river searching both banks.

When night came sheriff Hayes stationed a squad of men at each bridge who were to stand guard until morning. Some other points were also guarded. The cornfield in which he first disappeared is carefully watched. It was the prevailing opinion that he was in it yesterday and would make an attempt last night to get outside the lines. The field in which he is supposed to be contains about three hundred acres. The weeds are thick and high, which in addition to the corn, as stated by a gentleman who passed through it, makes it almost impossible to see a man fifteen feet.

It is the opinion of many that if he is caught the course of the law will be abbreviated, and he will be put to death enthusiastically.

Soon after the shooting, Coroner Wingard was notified, and responded as soon as possible. He found that Clark had died a few minutes after receiving the last shot. His body was pierced with four bullets. One had entered his back, one his right arm, one between the shoulder blades and the last one entered his left breast. The pistol used was a .44-caliber of the bull-dog pattern.

Both Mr. Clark and McKinney are colored. The former is about sixty years old and has lived in this county about fourteen years, and was known to be an honest man, and a good citizen. He commanded the respect of all who knew him. About three years ago McKinney married Clark's daughter. Soon after they were married they went to California. They had not been there long until she wrote her father that she was abused by her husband. Her letters caused him to pay them a visit some months ago, and being satisfied that she was being treated cruelly, brought her home with him. McKinney followed in a few weeks and tried to induce her to live with him. Last Saturday he asked her if he should kill her father if she would live with him. She replied that she would not. He had repeatedly made the threat that he would kill him, but no one believed that he would attempt to carry out his assertions. He is described as a short, heavy-set man, large head, thick, short neck, small mustache and chin beard. He is about 35 years old, slightly laid and at the time of the shooting wore dark clothes.

Later—This morning at 2:30 o'clock McKinney came into the city and met Policeman James Dobson near the corner of Second and Main streets. He said that he wanted to give himself over to the sheriff. Dobson brought him to the corner of Douglas avenue and Main street and delivered him to Policeman Joe Stewart, who conveyed him to the county jail.

McKinney told a reporter that he spent yesterday after the shooting in the corn field about fifty yards from where he committed the crime. He said one man rode within twenty feet of him in the afternoon.

ELOPED.

James Creighton, a married man, eloped Tuesday evening with the wife of John Paul. An Eagle reporter called upon Mrs. Creighton at her little home, 235 South Topeka, yesterday afternoon and found her crying and almost crazy over the cruel desertion. When asked regarding the matter she said: "Yes, it is true." In further conversation it appeared that the intimacy between her husband and Mrs. Paul's dates back about a year. She spent much of her time at the Creighton home and treated Mrs. Creighton with the greatest tenderness. Last week he disposed of all his property (buildings and lots on Mosley avenue), amounting to $5,000 or $7,000. Tuesday he bought a new suit of clothes, was very particular about the ironing of his linen and put all of his jewelry except a single ring into his pocket. He then gave $20 to his wife and left. In the evening when Paul returned from his work he found his wife and youngest child gone and the house gutted of everything of value. It soon became apparent to him that his wife had gone with Creighton; he commenced a search, but could find no traces of the runaway. They probably left by buggy, as they were not seen at the depots during the day. Creighton, his wife said, was always kind to her and that they had been married in Memphis about ten years ago. They came here in 1884. He at first ran a saloon and afterwards a grocery, which he sold to Mr. Paul.

Mr. Paul said that he and his wife had been married thirteen years and had always lived happily together until they removed to South Topeka, where she came under the influence of Creighton, since which time she has neglected her family and at times drunk heavily. She left one child.

The foundation for the Harris & Van Ness brick building on West Douglas avenue was commenced yesterday. The building will be three stories high with a front of twenty-five feet and seventy feet deep.

Mr. Russell, a leading lawyer of Anthony, who was in the city yesterday and who made us a call, says that a corps of railroad surveyors are going over the old route from which the Santa Fe once took up its track.
